Which festival:1 has a race on the river? A2 features traditional music and dance? B3 takes place in a castle? B4 has sculptures made of snow? A5 has a castle that is rebuilt every year? A6 ends with a single performer? BText A) Quebec Winter Carnival

Since its beginning in 1954, the Quebec Winter Carnival has grown to become the world's biggest winter festival. From 1st to 17th February every year, visitors come from all over the world to enjoy more than 300 events and activities on offer. One of the highlights is the famous canoe race on the St Lawrence River. Thousands people gather to watch and cheer as brave teams cross the river, battling their way through ice floes and powerful currents. Other popular events are the Grand Viree, a dog sled race through the streets of old Quebec, and the International Snow Sculpture competition. Visitors can participate in many activities, including snowshoe racing, ice skating, ice fishing and sleigh rides, or visit the Ice Castle, a medieval castle that is built every year out of ice and snow. The whole city is transformed into a magical winter fantasy, providing both adults and children with opportunity to rediscover the wonders of winter.

Text B) Edinburgh Military Tattoo

The Edinburgh Military Tattoo is one of the most spectacular shows in the world. It takes place annually, as it has since 1950, at Edinburgh Castle, in Scotland, at the beginning of August. Today more than 200,000 people attend the festival, while millions watch it on TV. It begins late in the evening, with bands from more than thirty countries marching castle's drawbridge, playing in harmony.

Apart from the nightly displays of traditional Scottish music, the Tattoo also features the best of Scottish highland dancers wheeling and swirling across the esplanade. Every year, a variety of international guest performers also appear and thrill the crowd with motorcycle stunts, Chinese dance and much more. For the Grand finale, all 1,000 or more gather on the esplanade; column after column of marchers, dancers and bandmen. As the applause of the audience dies down, a hush falls as the Lone Piper begins to play the tunes that signal the end of the show. Fireworks burst forth into the night sky and the audience joins in a chorus of singing. The perfect end to a memorable event full of colour and tradition.

Text A) Quebec Winter Carnival

Since its beginning in 1954, the Quebec Winter Carnival has grown to become the world's biggest winter festival. From 1st to 17th February every year, visitors come from all over the world to enjoy more than 300 events and activities on offer. One of the highlights is the famous canoe race on the St Lawrence River. Thousands people gather to watch and cheer as brave teams cross the river, battling their way through ice floes and powerful currents. Other popular events are the Grand Viree, a dog sled race through the streets of old Quebec, and the International Snow Sculpture competition. Visitors can participate in many activities, including snowshoe racing, ice skating, ice fishing and sleigh rides, or visit the Ice Castle, a medieval castle that is built every year out of ice and snow. The whole city is transformed into a magical winter fantasy, providing both adults and children with opportunity to rediscover the wonders of winter.

The Edinburgh Military Tattoo is one of the most spectacular shows in the world. It takes place annually, as it has since 1950, at Edinburgh Castle, in Scotland, at the beginning of August. Today more than 200,000 people attend the festival, while millions watch it on TV. T begins late in the evening, with bands from more than thirty countries marching castle's drawbridge, playing in harmony.

Apart from the nightly displays of traditional Scottish music, the Tattoo also features the best of Scottish highland dancers wheeling and swirling across the esplanade. Every year, a variety of international guest performers also appear and thrill the crowd of with motorcycle stunts, Chinese dance and much more. For the Grand finale, all 1,000 or more gather on the esplanade; column after column of marchers, dancers and bandsmen. As the applause of the audience dies down, a hush falls as the Lone Piper begins to play the tunes that signal the end of the show. Fireworks burst forth into the night sky and the audience joins in a chorus of singing. The perfect end to a memorable event full of colour and tradition.
